The Long Island is unlike anything you have ever seen, delivering modern luxury living with the lifestyle to match.

The home's statement starts with its street appeal. A magnificent mix of feature stone work and full balcony with glazed doors create an instant allure that seamlessly extends from the outside in.

The interior is simply sublime with spacious open-plan family and meals areas with feature 1300mm gas fireplace with stone mantle. Take a look around and you'll discover the large and luxurious home theatre downstairs and an office located in the entry of the home. A mud room provides access from the outside in, via the garage with ample storage areas.

At the heart of the home is the luxury kitchen complete with stone island benchtop and an upright combination premium cooker with double oven. The separate scullery, with combination oven/microwave and large walk-in pantry, makes entertaining easy.

The features do not stop there with a beautifully crafted cellar with two-way privacy glass feature wall, lift in the foyer, and two powder rooms located on the ground floor.

Effortlessly blending style, space and sophistication, no expense has been spared with eye-catching features both inside and out from the stone cladding, feature piers and mouldings, right through to the Hamptons style ceilings and 28-course high timber doors.

The master suite is a standout feature of this home and must be seen to fully appreciate its magnitude.

Upstairs is your very own bedroom wing, boasting four bedrooms, all with walk-in robes, including a guest room with its own private ensuite and adjacent retreat area. A second bathroom is also located on the upper floor with a feature bath, accompanied by a separate powder room.

The master suite is something to behold. As large as it is luxurious, the expansive ensuite has his and hers vanity, bath, and separate make-up and dressing areas that include extensive custom storage and shelving.

The two floors are connected via a magnificent feature staircase from the downstairs foyer to the upstairs landing area.

The design seamlessly extends the interior to the outdoors, maximising indoor/outdoor living thanks to the spacious and stylish alfresco area. Purpose-built for entertaining, with your very own outdoor kitchen with external fridge and built-in gas BBQ.

Built to the highest specifications, this modern masterpiece draws inspiration from the rich architecture of the Hamptons to create the romance and glamour of a sublime summer home. Delivering the highest standards of modern family living, across two magnificent levels, this is your very own home among the Hamptons.
